EL SIGLO DENOUNCES CIA ACTIVITIES

Montevideo Correspondent's Dispatch in Spanish to PRENSA LATINA Havana 2251 GMT 4 August 1964-E (Example 1984)

(Text) EL SIGIO today carries a long denunciation of the reactionary activities being carried out by the CIA in Chile. It emphasizes that in June 1964 Senator Jaime Barros asked the Foreign Ministry for a list of the U.S. embassy personnel in Chile. The item says that "there are 28 consular and diplomatic officials accredited to Chile. They include Frank M. Ravndal, second secretary and Vice Consul whom the International Committee for Struggle against Yankee Imperialism accuses of being a CIA agent."

It also says that the names of five other CIA agents, also denounced by the committee, are not on the list. According to the Foreign Ministry, the following U.S. diplomats are in Santiago: Charles Cole, ambassador; Joseph J. Jova. consul general; John P. Robinson, attache and director of the Economic AID Mission; Thomas R. Favell, economic counselor; Robert A. Stevenson, political counselor; Col. Dan S. McMillin, military attache; Col. Herbert A. Brandon, air attache; Jerome M. Kuhl, agricultural attache; Barbara M. White, cultural attache; Dorothy M. Jester, first secretary; Thomas H. Englesby, first secretary; Morris Allen. commercial attache; Rudolph E. Gomez, attache; Philip A. Turner, attache; Thomas E. Walsh, attache; Marie E Richardson, second secretary; Robert Walter, second secretary; John V. Hannon, attache, Ben. L. Stotts, attache; Budy V. Fimbres, second secretary and consul; Frank M. Ravndal, second secretary and vice consul; Maj. Michael Kovalsky, assistant army attache; Capt. Stephen B. Hicks, assistant air attache; and Lt. John Edwards Dowd.
